

Cruise Trends to Keep an Eye On

Looking for the latest and greatest developments for cruising? Check out the The Huffington Post's Cruise Trends to Watch:

- 1. Year-Round Deals and Packaging. Travelers plan cruises throughout the year, not just seasonally. As those booking patterns change, cruise lines are adapting and offering sales throughout the year.
- 2. More Affordable High-Speed Internet. In 2014, Royal Caribbean and Carnival went head-to-head in the battle for the fastest Internet at sea. Look for faster, more affordable Internet unveiled on many more ships.
- 3. Cruise Chefs Cater to Dietary Restrictions.
Traditionally, cruise lines offer a limited menu for passengers on special diets. But in 2016, expect to see cruise lines diversify – and make tastier food options for travelers with dietary restrictions.
- 4. More Options for Solo Travelers.
Solo cruisers can expect to be socked with hefty fees and more space than they need. More cruise lines likely will add solo cabins to new ships for those who travel alone. Norwegian Cruise Line, Royal Caribbean and P&O Cruises already offer more affordable solo travel options.
