

2015 Europe Cruises Boom!

2015 is projected to be a very strong year for European cruises. After a sluggish 2014, the cruise industry is responding with new ships and the repositioning of very popular ships to Europe (such as the Allure of the Seas). Europe will have over 160,000 ship berths in 2015. Reports indicate that 70% of all passengers, that's 112,000 potential cruisers, will buy shore excursions! Ka-ching!

Europe Shore Excursions – a boom for you!

Customers on European cruises spend more money on shore excursions than any other destination – and if they are not buying from you, you are leaving money on the table! When your customers buy excursions from the cruise lines, you don't receive any commission. Don't let that happen! Let us help you sell European excursions using your own Shore Excursions Group website so you earn that valuable commission. We offer over 300 excursions in 60 ports in Europe. Check out all the Hot Deals, Special Offers, and multi-port excursion packages using your unique link.
